"OLD GLORY."

Old Glory we throw to the breeze,
Our Banner we lift for the right;
And when it shall never go down
While God gives us strength for the fight;
Our Father's blood is in its folds,
Which in battle's dread peril it rose;
They bequeathed it untarnished to us—
Their sons shall protect it from foes.
Chorus—Old Glory, Old Glory forever;
The flag of our fathers we bear,
Its dangers, its honors we share;
The stars speak the fame of its heroes,
Its stripes bid the traitors beware.

The God of our country defend
When traitors dishonor her name,
And help us to rise in our might
And save our brave banner from shame;
All nations acknowledge its power,
And it spreads its broad folds o'er the sea,
While they welcome the true of all lands,
Our flag is the flag of the free.

Chorus—
Old Glory, the pride of our arms,
Old Glory, the boast of our land;
Our pride and our boast we'll never want.
The strength of a patriot's hand,
Our hearts, they shall cherish the boon.
And our arms, they shall guard it with care,
While to Him who is God over all,
We lift up our spirits in prayer.

Our flag is the symbol of power,
The emblem of Union and truth.
It waves "o'er the land of the free"
As fair as the visions of youth.
It never shall sink in disgrace,
While a true heart remains in our land;
We will leave to our children that flag,
As pure as it came to our hand.

Miscellany.

JUDGE HOLTS VIEWS.

We take the following interesting extracts from a letter written a few weeks ago by Hon. Joseph Holt to Collector Barney of New York, and recently made public:

"The tongue of an archangel could scarcely comfort and animate the popular spirit in the presence of the invasion of our armies. After an unparalleled expenditure of treasure, and the marshaling of such armies as the world has never seen, and after sacrifices which are clothing the land in mourning, at the expiration of eighteen months from the commencement of the rebellion, we find it more defiant and determined, and more successful in its invasions and spoils, than at any moment since the struggle began. This is from no lack of devotion on the part of the people, who have poured out their blood and treasure like water, nor yet from any lack of courage on the part of our brave volunteers. Our soldiers have been everywhere pausing for a sight of the enemy while the great heart of the country, in its solemn and earnest solicitudes, is like a groan of grief over the ocean, pressing on our forces toward the battle field. A saddened belief is rapidly spreading that, unless the present condition of things is speedily changed, our cause will be lost. An immediate, bold, and aggressive movement upon the enemy—following up every blow struck, and gathering the fruits of every victory gained—is what is required for our deliverance. To the accomplishment of this single object the thoughts, efforts and the prayers of the whole country should be directed. If those in the front will not go forward, the public safety will demand that they be assigned positions in the rear. What are the sensibilities, what the reputation, or what the cherished schemes of any General in the field, as compared with the life of such a Government and country as ours? If with the cloudless skies, and bracing airs, and fine roads of the autumn, our vast and completely appointed army cannot do its work, when will it be able to do so? If Lee, Jackson and Longstreet can move with promptitude and dashing energy in the cause of treason and anarchy, why cannot our chieftains move as promptly and as fast in the cause of honor and loyalty? How much longer will the nation endure that all its sacrifices be fruitless? Its conviction that it possesses twice the power to subdue the rebellion, is not more complete than, in my judgement, will be its determination that neither the follies nor the crimes of men shall render that power unavailing."

SALT FOR THE THROAT.

In these days, when diseases of the throat are so universally prevalent, and so many cases fatal, we feel it our duty to say a word in behalf of a simple and what has been to us, a most effective preventive, if not positive cure, of sore throat. For many years past, indeed, we may say during the whole of a life of more than forty years, we have been subject to sore throat and more particularly a dry, hacking cough, which was not only distressing to our selves, but to our friends and those with whom we were brought into business contact. Last fall we were induced to try what virtue there is in common salt. We commenced by using it three times a day—morning, noon and night. We dissolve a large tablespoonful of pure table salt in about a half tumbler full of cold water. With this we gargled the throat most thoroughly just before meals time. The result has been that during the entire winter we were not only free from the usual coughs and colds to which, as far as our memory extends, we have always been subject, but the hacking cough has entirely disappeared. We attribute these satisfactory results solely to the use of the salt gargle, and do most cordially recommend a trial of it to those of our readers who are subject to diseases of the throat.—Farmer and Gardener.

STATE OF RHODE ISLAND AND PROVIDENCE PLANTATIONS. A PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR.

In the midst of the greatest calamity that has ever befallen our country, we should not be unmindful of the blessings which are showered upon us by the all-wise Disposer of events and destinies. Our adversities should not tempt us to forget either our dependence upon a common Father, or the multiplied mercies which accompany his chastenings. In the midst of war we are enjoying many of the blessings of peace. Our granaries are full to overflowing; "harmful" departments of industry bring their usual rewards; the tolling menses neither pestilence nor famine assail us in our households, order reigns in our cities and towns; our common schools prosper; domestic quiet rewards obedience to the laws of man and God; and the people worship securely in their temples.

Thus blest, it is fit that we should render thanks to the Supreme Ruler of the universe. And I therefore appoint THURSDAY, the 27th day of November instant, to be observed in this State as a day of public Thanksgiving, Prayer and Praise. On that day let us assemble in our places of worship, and in our family and social circles, and render to a beneficent Creator the adoration of grateful hearts; beseeching Him also that He will continue to us the unnumbered mercies of the present; and especially that He will restore to us the national unity, peace and prosperity of former years; that He will guide our rulers in the discharge of their duties; that He will reward patriotism in the soldier and in the citizen; that He will banish treason, corruption and hubbub from high places; that He will preserve our constitution and save us from anarchy; that He will restore to us hostile States and estranged hearts; that He will prosper all our worthy enterprises and labors; and that He will prompt those upon whom He has bestowed temporal blessings to bind up the wounds and cheer the hearts of such as faint beneath the heavy blows of adversity.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of the State, at Providence, this seventh day of November, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two, and of Independence the eighty-seventh.

WILLIAM SPRAGUE,
By His Excellency the Governor.
JOHN R. BAXTER, Secretary of State.

UNION-NATIONALITY.

The history of all ages proves that no people can attain a high degree of intelligence or morality unless the sentiment of its nationality is strongly developed. These words were part of the early creed of the great Italian statesman, Cavour, who saw that the only hope for the re-unification of Italy and her emancipation from the detestation and rule of transalpine invaders, whether Austrian or French, was in the union of the several separated kingdoms, principalities and duchies under one constitutional head. It was of no avail for one man to say that he was a Piedmontese, a second that he was a Lombard, a third that he was a Venetian, a fourth a Tuscany, a fifth a Roman, a sixth a Neapolitan, or a seventh a Sicilian, when no one among them could proudly exclaim: "I am an Italian." The people of these provinces had nothing in common but their language; they had no community of laws or of government. If they thought of each other, it was with feelings of prejudice and of petty jealousy, and a willingness to hide their own abuse in the supposed greater degradation of their neighbors. They had no rallying point, nothing to insure security at home or respect from abroad. Italy was only Italy geographically; the name carried with it no distinctly political or national meaning. All were made to feel the force of another dictum in Cavour's creed: "With a people which can feel no pride in its nationality, the sentiments of personal dignity can only exist exceptionally, in the persons of a few privileged individuals."

How strange, how passing strange, that a great truth, the keen perception of which ultimately caused the people in all parts of Italy to forego all previous jealousies and rivalries in order to bring about a firm union, should be scoffed at in the once United States, and in its stead degradation and dissension not only be advocated but fought for with all the hellish energy and hate of Satan and his conspirers when warring against high Heaven.

THE AMERICAN JUTE.

We have received a copy of a very valuable and interesting paper read before the Franklin Institute, in Philadelphia, October 16th 1862. It relates to a fibre that constitutes the outer covering or bark of the stalks of a North American perennial plant, of the order Malvaceae, known as the Hibiscus Moenchianus, or Palustris. It has received the name of the American Jute, but is altogether a different order of plant from the Jute of the East Indies. It is finer and bears exposure and wetting better. Its utility was brought to light by Mr. W. I. Cautley, who has been engaged in testing the qualities of American plants, in reference to their availability as a substitute for linen rags in making paper; for hemp in making ropes, matting, and other articles, and also as a partial substitute for cotton or woolen in the manufacture of textile fabrics. A patent was granted on May 13th last, for the utilizing of the fibres of this plant, and the patentees now come forward with highly interesting results. It has been found by experienced rope manufacturers to be far superior to manilla hemp or Jute—the specimen exhibited being fully equal in strength and pliability to ordinary hempen ropes. Two prominent paper manufacturers of Philadelphia, have estimated the value of the fibre as a substitute for linen rags in the manufacture of paper, at $100 per ton. As a substitute for cotton or woolen in textiles, it has not been fully investigated. It is indigenous to the Northern States, and grows in swampy lands in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York. When we consider that in swampy lands it can be raised to the value of $300 per acre, even if it shall prove only as a substitute in making the one article of paper, it is a wonderful and interesting discovery. But if it is used as extended further to the other articles mentioned, it certainly is of the greatest importance, and will, in the language of the Paper referred to, "open new avenues for the exercise of agricultural, mechanical, and mercantile pursuits, and tend to the utilizing of the swampy deserts with which our Northern States abound."

Local News

GEORGE W. PERRY Esq.—Our Obituary notice declares the melancholy fact that one of our active and energetic business men, has been called away by that summons which knows no refusal. Mr. Perry was in the prime of life, but the insatiable malady had long since, in the opinion of many who knew him, made him a mark. The arrow that cut the thread of life has ranked at the seat of life for some time, and at last, in the midst of active business life and amid the comforts of an interesting home, and the ties of a beloved family—a wife and several children—he fell beneath the hand of death, and "wearing in the march of life" he laid down his armor and yielded to the summons. He had a large circle of friends by whom he was esteemed and beloved. But the boldest ties thus suddenly snapped, will be found around the hearth thus so terribly made desolate. In vain we should seek to enter over that bereaved threshold with the word of comfort, were we to attempt, but we will add that as one who knew well from early life, his virtues were best appreciated by those who knew him best.

DANCE.—We call attention to Professor White's advertisement for an adult class of learners in the art of dancing. Those who wish to join it will meet him at Belle Vue Hall, on Thursday evening next. We have already had occasion to speak in terms of commendation of this gentleman's accomplishment in the Torschoborian art, and can assure all who wish to join his class of adults, that they will find him not only an accomplished teacher but a refined gentleman, as well.

PHOTOGRAPHS.—We have received from Mr. E. Anthony, 501 Broadway, New York, three photographs illustrative of secession. They are good bits. One of them is of Jeff. Davis in an old dilapidated mahogany frame with the glass broken—each piece seeming to be really there. One corner displays a column with the flies therein, as natural as can be, and is rather illustrative of what it is hoped, Jeff and his whole establishment will come to, eventually, dilapidated and used up. This picture is entitled "The Neglected Picture." The others are named, one, "Dome Gone," and the other, "Discretion is the better part of Valor." The first named is accompanied by an illustrative poem from the Home Journal.

DR. MEXON of New Orleans, we are glad to learn, has taken the oath of allegiance, and it is an interesting fiction account of the high standing and influence of that gentleman. His prominence makes the fact also a significant one.

EDITOR'S BOOK TABLE.

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY, for November is at hand, with its usual variety on the subjects of Literature, Art, and Politics. It contains seven interesting articles, besides the Editor's Table, and its programme as laid out for December and January and other future issues, will, no doubt, ensure its success and increase of patronage.

PETERSON'S LADIES' NATIONAL MAGAZINE is on our table, for December. It is finely embellished and contains among its engravings a fine vignette of some of its contributors. It also promises a great improvement for 1863. It will then contain one thousand pages of reading, fourteen splendid steel plates, twelve colored fashion plates, twelve colored Berlin work patterns, also hundred wood cuts and twenty-four pages of music—a most truly valuable volume, when bound. It will also contain a continuation of thrilling tales and novelettes.

CATALOGUE OF BROWN UNIVERSITY.—The Catalogue of this flourishing Institution for 1862-3, has been received. It appears from the general summary, that there are 6 Resident Graduates, 34 Seniors, 48 Juniors, 59 Sophomores and 53 Freshmen, numbering in all 190 members of the College. We are always glad to see the Alma Mater of so many eminent men, and the chief Institution of our own State showing such a number within her hallowed walls, as plainly indicates her being in a good and prosperous condition. President Sears is well known as one of the most finished scholars in America.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK, for December is on our table. It is truly a beautiful number, and full of fine embellishments. It has a new piece of music, and Christmas receipts and Christmas stories, and a year's subscription to a lady friend would be as appropriate a one for a Christmas offering as could be found, and will be renewed once a month.

THE FOURTEENTH ANNUAL CATALOGUE OF THE NEW ENGLAND FEMALE COLLEGE, is received. This is a valuable Institution and promises to be a successful one in the right direction on a subject that has enlisted the hearty sympathies and co-operation of the ablest men in all professions.

MOFFAT'S MEMOIRS.—We have received from John Moffat & Co., 32 East 17th street, New York, a circular containing a description of their medicinal Vegetables Life Pills and Genuine Phoenix Bitters, both of which are extensively known and used.

Dr. DeFord, the President of the Board of Trustees of the University of the State of New York, is known for his energy. But this energy is not the careless act of a man with whom everything has gone well. On the contrary, Dr. DeFord's energy has been shown by the honest truth that he is a man, all in direct connection with the exercise of his power. He is only a youth of eighteen, and of exalted rank and high position, and he is known for his energy. He is only a youth of eighteen, and of exalted rank and high position, and he is known for his energy. He is only a youth of eighteen, and of exalted rank and high position, and he is known for his energy.

We give below, verbatim, et literatim, et punctatim, the following, orthographical curiosity. It is a copy of an oath of "allegiance" (English) written out by a guerrilla captain who captured Mr. George W. Johnson, of the 4th Kentucky Infantry, and required him to sign it. We give it as a remarkable specimen of literature, which shows as distinct a rebellion against Webster and Worcester, as against the Government: "Oath I solemnly swear that I will not Bar or take up arms against the Confederate States or her army during the present war. If I shall last ten years from this time and that I will discountenance Abolitionism let it come from what ever source it may for which I am willing to pledge my honor and life and property in the Sacred promises of the State—So help God. GEORGE W. JOHNSON."

The Independent referring to affairs of the day, thus comments upon McClellan: "His anxiety to be fully prepared was morbid. He was never yet ready. There was always something yet to be done he deemed it wise to venture. He heaped up preparations. He had never enough men; nor enough arms, or clothing, or munition. The whole East drained towards his camp. And when, more than any general that ever commanded on this continent, he had at his command every resource of the nation, he was still unready. At length the Cabinet, and the whole country clamored for activity; he felt the possible danger before him even more than all the pressure of Government and Country behind him, and demanded more men and more means; complaining that he was hampered and thwarted!"

A Wonderful Document.—The Cleveland Leader sums up the astonishing attributes of the President's emancipation proclamation, according to the showing of the pro-slavery press: "It will destroy the Union. It is harmless and impotent. It will excite slave insurrection. The slaves will never hear of it. It will excite the South to desperation. The rebels will laugh it to scorn. This is equal to the answer of a defendant charged with breaking an iron pot: 'It was cracked when I borrowed it. It was whole when I returned it. Besides, I never had it.'

An Active Campaign at Hand.—No one here seems to expect that within a week some important persons say there will be no serious fighting this fall or winter, but that is almost impossible. The very fact that McClellan was displaced is evidence that Burnside will certainly push the enemy. If he does, that enemy will retreat as far as Gordonsville, if not upon Richmond itself.

Gen. Burnside is going to put his best foot forward. Those who know him well believe that he will succeed. He is faithful, is a good general, and is in favor of pushing the war straight on to results. He knows exactly why McClellan went out, and why he is now in command. It is exact.

Gen. Wool has replied to the aspersions cast upon him by the Harper's Ferry Commission, and says: "It is true that I placed 'Bible' (Col. Miles) in command of Harper's Ferry." He was there in command when I assumed command of this Department, and had been ordered to establish his headquarters there on the 29th of March, by Major-General McClellan, then General-in-Chief. On the 20th of April the Secretary of War sent the following order to Col. Miles, at Harper's Ferry: "You will please make daily reports of the state of your command to the Department."

The Paper Market in the South.—The Jackson Mississippi says: "One of our exchanges in Louisiana comes to us printed on the inside of ordinary wall-paper. The paper looks quite respectable on the printed side, but on opening it your eyes are greeted with all sorts of figures, and what printers type never had any in stamping. We presume the proprietor of this paper intends to furnish his subscribers with enough of wall-paper to ornament their rooms, thus rendering his sheet doubly valuable."

Gen. Rosecrans is the only General, who, since the death of Lyon has vigorously followed up a victory and he, whilst pursuing Price's flying troops and ending them his high at every jump was for some inexplicable or at least unexplained reason called off by Gen. Grant. What a grand result we should have had Gen. McClellan and Gen. Bull with no Grant to call them off, could only have pursued Lee and Gregg from Antietam and Chancellorsville as Rosecrans pursued Price from Corinth.

The Episcopal Church of the South.—Bishop Elliot, of Georgia, announces that the union of the dioceses of Texas, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, South and North Carolina, and Virginia is complete, under the name of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Confederate States of America. The first General Council will meet at Augusta on November 12th.

Gen. Burnside.—A correspondent of the National Intelligence states that Gen. Burnside was born at Liberty, Indiana, of Scottish parents, his father being somewhat of the David Deans school but wanting its moroseness and sectarian bitterness. He inherits much of the deep-rooted religious conviction, caution and determination so eminently peculiar to the "sons of Scotia."

The U. S. Capitol.—All the public stores have been removed from the crypt or basement of the Rotunda of the Capitol. Workmen are now engaged in raising immense shafts and other machinery required for the marble monolithic columns may be elevated to their proper places on the east side of the Senate wing of the Capitol.

Gen. Cass on the Removal of McClellan.—The New York Post makes this announcement: "We have the best authority for stating that Gen. Cass, in a communication to the President, has expressed the fullest approval of the removal of Gen. McClellan from the command of our army in Virginia."

Advance in the Price of Newspapers.—A meeting of the newspaper publishers of Connecticut is proposed to arrange for a general advance in the terms of subscription.

The Providence Press says the proposition to amend the Federal tax law as to include babies under the word "manufacturers" does not seem to have been considered. The proposer is a bachelor.

Rev. Frederick B. Huntington, D. D., of Easton, Connecticut, has been making considerable consideration as an invitation to become the Rector of the Cavalry Church, in New York, recently in the charge of Rev. Dr. Hawkes, who has accepted a call from Baltimore.

Jones, the other day, asked Smith the following question: Says Jones, "We have had the age of iron the age of gold, and the age of bronze, but which but which shall we call the present age?" "Why," says Smith, "I think the back of a postage stamp which he was about to apply to the envelope of a letter, I think we had better call this the mu-chi-ago."

The New York Observer has become convinced that slavery is the cause of the war. Better late than never.

NOTICE TO THE CITIZENS OF RHODE ISLAND.

THAT I THOMAS G. HAZARD, did in July last, personally and read, according to the request of the Assessors of Taxes and swore to the same, and that they, through obedience or ignorance, have not complied with their own request, therefore I have refused to pay any more than the value of my land which they have advertised for sale. I forbid any person or persons from bidding on the same. It is a disgrace to any Town or City to be imposed upon by a clique got together to defraud individuals. There should be equality in taxation. Every citizen should be equal in the city for the want of principle in the inhabitants. I request of the people to look to their interest before settling on land out of the compact part of the city before it is too late for them to retract their steps. If they thought, I had not given in and signed it, they would judge for themselves, which is the thing I have left to do, as I did not wish to let the same, nor would I assess taxes on the inhabitants in the city for a tax on the same. I had not given in and signed it for the compact part of the city. OUR RIGHTS DEMANDED OF ENGLAND.

Reclamations to be Made for the Damage of the Pirate Alabama.

BRITISH PROFFERED NEUTRALITY TO BE TESTED.

New York, Nov. 17.

A special dispatch states that reclamations have been made on England for the damages suffered by our commerce from the rebel cruiser Alabama, which sailed under British papers from a British port. It is believed that this hint will not be lost by England and that she will stop the Iron clad fleet not supposed to be building for the rebels from sailing out of ports into which our armed vessels are not admitted, as she must see that to do otherwise would be to commit a breach of the neutrality which she so studiously professes. According to information received here no one of these rebel Iron clads will be ready for three months to come.

THE DIFFICULTY WITH SPAIN.

HUNTERS ACTION TO BE INVESTIGATED.

New York, 17th.

Specialists state that it is understood that the question about the destruction of the Blanche in Cuban waters has been referred to Madrid and that Admiral Farragut has been directed to investigate Comd. Hunter's actions. It is said that the Spanish Minister regards Hunter's course as a breach of international law and that he was somewhat indignant with Secretary Seward for postponing a satisfactory settlement instead of ordering Com. Hunter home and unless the facts were proved essentially different than the Spanish version of them, making reparation at once.

TO EVERY BODY.

ALL PERSONS doing business are interested in a card just published, containing a complete alphabetical list of the articles sold in the new National Tax List. The whole matter is arranged in a neat, clear, methodical manner, and is indispensable for business men. They are for sale at the City Music Store 85 Thames Street, for only 10 cents each.

The Philadelphia Councils have passed resolutions welcoming Gen. McCall to the city and complimenting his conduct under his dismissal from active command.

In view of another possible rebel raid into Pennsylvania, preparations are on foot to send at the shortest notice, a pretty large military force to Chambersburg, or that vicinity.

The entire army under Gen. Rosecrans is nearing Nashville, and will reach that city this week. The enemy are undoubtedly between Chattanooga and Huntsville.

Advance in the Price of Newspapers.—A meeting of the newspaper publishers of Connecticut is proposed to arrange for a general advance in the terms of subscription.

Macquett Fishing.—The Gloucester Advertiser says: "Take it all in all, the macquett fishing season, now so near its close, has been quite successful. The majority of the vessels have brought in good fishes, and the recent advance in prices will add much to the net proceeds of the season's work."

Western papers complain bitterly of the hardships to which farmers are subjected, from the low price obtained for most kinds of produce, notwithstanding the depreciation of paper currency as compared with former years, and the enhanced cost of all they consume.

The Portland Press tells a story of a lady who went to a book store in Bangor for the latest issue of the "Tyne," a new singing book, but was surprised by being handed a late copy of the "Eastern Argus." This is nearly as good as the one of the former who sent to a neighbor's to borrow the "newspaper," and was presented with the marriage certificate.

The foreign trade of the past week was less active than the previous week, both in New York and in Boston. The total exports from New York were $5,000,000, against one and three-fourths of a million in imports, leaving a balance of three and one-fourth millions in favor of the United States, and a balance of twenty-six millions for the year.

Supplies for the Army of the Potomac.—Vast quantities of shoes, clothing, provisions and other Quartermaster's and commissary stores, the surplus of the Army of the Potomac, are now being, at great expense sent back to the Washington depots. This is a striking commentary on the complaints made that the army was delayed in consequence of the want of these supplies.

Women Employed in Government Service.—The number of women employed at the Treasury is about fifty, and their time is divided between the business of clipping new notes and counting old ones before their final destruction. These worthy women receive at the rate of six hundred dollars per year for their services, and are, therefore, but many of the government clerks, who receive fifteen hundred dollars per annum, spend much of their time at the hotel, and their breath in swearing at this man and that, and condemning the government for a thousand sins.

Curious Mishap.—In the last British mail received at the Lowell Post-office, there was an English newspaper in which was found hidden a letter. The letter was mailed at Liverpool for Bradford in Yorkshire, and after reaching the latter place, during the process of delivery it chanced to slip inside the wrapper of a newspaper which had been deposited at Bradford for Lowell, U. S., and hidden there came safely to this city, whence it was started back again for the dominions of John Bull, with a full history of its travels written on its face. Such a peculiar accident would not happen to one letter in many millions.—Lowell Courier.

Mr. Burlingame in China.—The latest received Overland Mail says:

"In Peking everything is quiet. The Hon. Mr. Burlingame lately applied to the Chinese Government for a site whereon to establish the American Consulate, urging his claim to similar privileges with France and England. He was informed, in reply, that he had come to Peking in a manner different from that of those two nations, and could not have a site granted to him, but that he should have every assistance in renting a building suitable for the American Legation."

ONE MORE CHANCE!
I WILL CONTINUE to sell for a short time longer, the Constitution Range, at the old price of 10 dollars for the No. 7, and 12 dollars for No. 8, notwithstanding the advance in the whole range of coal. This price is for superior to any heretofore offered to the public, it having some 30 inches more in size of ovens, the heat of which is uniform, baking a beautiful brown, both at top and bottom.

thousand physicians in the United States and Europe, having been used with RESULTS UNPARALLELED IN THE ANNALS OF MEDICINE.

MADAME ZADOC PORTER'S CURATIVE
Balm is warranted if used according to the directions, to cure in all cases, Coughs, Whooping Coughs, Asthma, and all affections of the Throat and Lungs.

MADAME ZADOC PORTER'S BALM
is a preparation of the best remedies the vegetable kingdom affords. Its remedial qualities are based on its power to assist the healthy and vigorous circulation of the blood, through the lungs. It is not a violent remedy, but excellent—warming, soothing and effective;
can be taken by the oldest person or youngest child.

MADAME ZADOC PORTER'S BALM

MOST IMPORTANT—MADAME ZADOC PORTER'S CURATIVE BALM is sold at a price which brings it in the reach of every one to keep it convenient for use. The timely use of a single bottle will prove to be worth 100 times its cost.

NOTICE—SAVE YOUR MONEY!!! Do not be persuaded to purchase at 40c, 50c, 75c, which do not contain the virtues of a Dime Bottle of Madame Porter's CURATIVE BALM, the cost of manufacturing which is as great as that of almost any other medicine; and the very low price at which it is sold, makes the profit to the seller apparently small, and unprincipled dealer will sometimes recommend other medicines which their profits are larger, unless the customer insist upon having Madame Porter's and none other. Ask for Madame Porter's CURATIVE BALM, price 10c, and in large bottles at 20c, and take no other. If you cannot get it at one place, try another.

THE SPECIFIC PILL.
A SPECIFIC REMEDY FOR Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness, and Genital Irritability in either Sex.

This Malady, the terrible consequences of which are too well known to require more than a bare allusion to them, is one of the most insidious, and therefore dangerous, of all the long catalogue of human ills. It saps the very springs of life, rapidly undermines the constitution, and sinks the unhappy victim into im-becility and a premature grave! From one to six boxes of THE SPECIFIC PILL are sufficient to effect a permanent cure in the most AGGRAVATED CASES, whether Constitutional, or arising from Abuse or Excess.

MEDICAL TESTIMONY.
"We believe it to be, in the treatment of Spermato-rrhea, as near a Specific as any medicine can be."

effect has been truly wonderful. I used them in a case of Spermatorrhea of long duration, which has been

A CHALLENGE AND A REWARD.
$500 REWARD.

I beg leave to inform my friends and the community, that from recent arrangements made by me, I NOW offer the above reward in good faith, which shall be paid in cash to any chemist or physician, of good and responsible standing in the State, who, on due analysis and satisfactory evidence, can find anything in the BRANDIES, WINES, GINS, &c., NOW for sale in France, or from any part of the world. As a proof of my sincerity, I challenge chemical contradiction, and invite all to come and test for themselves, when they will learn that NOW, "if never before," pure liquors can be purchased in Newport, by bottle or measure, for medicinal or family purposes, and as cheap as in any other place in these United States.

WM. ALDERSON, Newport, R. I.

N. B.—The main inducement for all to give me a call, is that my figure for the genuine article is rather less than more, than is NOW charged for the base and impured bottled compounds so extensively sold all over country.
